Fiona Gammond: CCC Ambassador – Creative Junction is delighted to introduce the newest ambassador for the Create, Compete, Collaborate (CCC) programme, Fiona Gammond, the 2010 Youth Olympics Gold Medallist in rowing. Eighteen year old Fiona is from Bicester in Oxfordshire and is currently studying and training at the Headington School in Oxford. Like most teenagers, she enjoys hanging out with her friends and when she has some free time she is also learning the piano. She admits that some days training is the last thing she wants to do, but her hard work and dedication has paid off with gold medals in both the 2010 World Junior Championships in the Czech–Republic as part of a 8–women team and the 2010 Youth Olympics in Singapore as part of the pairs team.

We recently met up with Fiona during training and spoke to her about her experience at the Youth Olympics and what she enjoys most about meeting other young people from different countries. Click here for full interview.
